

Ldu h. Parbell

Even more fascinating than "The History of Standard Oil" is Miss Tarbell's new historical serial, "The Tariff in Our Times."

It's bigger and broader; one treats of a corporation, the other of a nation.

It reveals a curious story—a story of panic and war, of selfishness and jobbery, of heroism and patriotism, of many who served and some who cheated, of the eternal clash of private with public interests.

The great men of the day live again in these articles - Morrill, Chase, Sherman, Fessenden, Thad. Stevens, Horace Greely, Wilson, Mills, McKinley. You see them in their intimacies and idiosyncracies, in their greatness and littleness.

"The Tariff in Our Times" is the businessstory of the Nation during an exciting half century. Between 20 per cent duty ante bellum and 50 per cent post bellum lies a marvelous tale of patriotic endeavor and daring intrigue. Miss Tarbell begins to tell it in

THE AMERICAN MAGAZINE

For December

Besides this, there's Dooley's tenderly humorous article on "The Christmas Spirit," and William Allen White talks of "Science, St. Skinllint and Santa Claus." They will do you more good than the price of the magazine for a year. When strenuosity jars, the newest of the "Adventures in Contentment," by David Grayson, will prove a mental sedative that's quite

And so on-but why not get the December Number and enjoy it for yourself?

10 cents at any News-stand; $1.00 a Year

THE PHILLIPS PUBLISHING COMPANY, 141-147 Fifth Avenue, New York

PAPER BY MR. STRAUS PROPOSES COMPULSORY STERILIZATION.

A dispatch from New York says: Some VICE PRESIDENT OF MUTUAL fifty or sixty physicians, half a dozen health at the Academy of Medicine to discusthe question of a clean milk supply for New York city, at the request of the Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor. Entirely unofficial in character, reaching no formulated conclusion, after hours of discussion, other than a set of resolations which embodied the gist of the ideas set forth informally, this conference was nevertheless probably one of the most remarkable ever assembled in this city to consider one phase of a city's health.

cerning the health and care of infants, representatives of the health and charities departments of this state and city and representatives, too, of other cities and of the or his entourage at his house. federal government.

Its results will come several months from ed properly the discussion brought out yes-terday, have published it and incorporated its salient points into city ordinances and state legislation, which may be adopted for the safeguarding of the lives of infants in congested tenement districts and the thousands on thousands who acquire disease because of impure milk. Committees were authorized at the session last night which will co-operate with the department of health, the County Medical Society and the state department of health. One large committee will be appointed by George W. Wickersham, who presided at the conference, and from it subcommittees. A committee of five also will be appointed to formulate the work of the conference

An Informal Resolution.

tially as follows:

It is the sense of this conference that, First-The sale of skimmed milk should infants, and not in retail stores where whole milk is sold. Second-Pasteurization should not be made compulsory. Commercial pasteurization has some value, but not the same as true pas-Third-Infants' milk depots should use both raw and pasteurized milk, and all milk used should be clean. It is questionable whether municipal depots are desirable. Much educational work is possible in con-nection with milk depots; it should be directed to the instruction of mothers and other persons having care of infants in the proper method of feeding infants and the mportance of cleanliness in their care and feeding.

Fourth-Nothing should be sold in connec tion with milk except other dairy products and sealed package goods; where milk is sold in grocery stores separate booths should be provided in which the milk is kept free from contact with the other articles dealt in. It is not practicable at present to prohibit the use of cans. The milk should be required to be kept at a temperature below fifty degrees Fahrenheit. All bottles should be cleansed and exposed to boiling temperature for a sufficient time to destroy all pathological germs, and the natural place would be at the creamery where they are refilled. In model shops provision should be made for sterilizing utensils at least to the degree of boiling them daily. Attendants should wear washable white suits and caps, both for clean-liness and the moral effect on those pur-

Five-The methods of inspection at present used are up to the standards in use by other states and the federal Department of Agriculture. It would be advisable in consection with the inspection for violations of the sanitary code to combine some form of analysis for bacteria when a proper bacteriological standard has been evolved from experiments with the city's milk supply. In the city the number of inspectors at the disposal of the department of health is approximately sufficient for the demands; the districts within the state outside this city there should be between sixty and eighty inspectors to handle the work ade-

Sixth-Education on cleanliness should be spread in every possible way among dairy-men, farmers and milk handlers. Mothers should be trained to distinguish between clean and impure milk. Milk supply depots tenement districts and lectures or instructions given there to mothers on the care Committees of the conference should work with health departments of

Seventh-Legislation should be passed making pollution of milk receptacles a mis-laws rather than new legislation is neces-sary. State supervision should be en-couraged. Diseased cattle should be weed-

EMORY McCLINTOCK ILL

STRICKEN WITH APOPLEXY.

NEW YORK, November 23 .- Emory Mc-Clintock, the vice president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, is dangerously ill with apoplexy.

Temporary paralysis of his right side followed. Although he has recovered sufficiently from the paralysis to be able to sit up, Mr. McClintock, it is said, is suffering from aphasia and is watched day and night by physicians at his home in Morristown, It contained physicians whose standing is N. J. Although Mr. McClintock's friends conceded to be the highest on questions con- have maintained the strictest reticence as to the grave nature of Mr. McClintock's condition, this has been an open secret among those who came in contact with him

While Mr. McClintock was elected first vice president in December. 1905, he did this meeting, when committees have digest- not actually take office until the spring, replacing Firce Vive Presidents Robert A. Grannis and Walter R. Gillette, both of whom are now under indictment.

> where he was absent for about two months. Although while in England Mr. McClintock was well enough to testify before a special insurance committee of the house of lords, his European visit, it was learned last night, was partly on account of his ill

For more than sixteen years an actuary of the company and somewhat of a recluse by habit, Mr. McClintock felt keenly the active responsibilities suddenly thrust The conference itself at its night session on him by his appointment to the first vice sanctioned an informal resolution substan- presidency. Charles A. Peabody being a new chief executive, much of Mr. Peabody's administrative work devolved on Mr. Mc-Clintock. Added to this, Mr. McClintock be permitted, but not for consumption by had to support on one pair of shoulders highly exacting labors formerly borne by two experienced men. All of these things, it is said, weighed heavily on his mind. On his return from Europe, in August, in the belief that he had virtually recovered from his illness, Mr. McClintock bent with redoubled energy to his work, having, how-ever, frequent periods of sickness, when, like as not, he persisted in attending to his duties. Soon after his return Mr. McClinduties. Soon after his return tock made a statement that the international policyholders' committeemen as a "gmall potatoes." remindcomm.ttee were "small potatoes," rem ing him of the college professor's definition of dirt as "matter out of place." Samuel Untermeyer, the international committee's counsel, retorted with the statement that Mr. McClintock was "the head and front of the unspeakable old (McCurdy) regime." He followed this up, in answer to a chal-lenge from Mr. McClintock, by making public certain correspondence between Mr. Mc-Clintock and W. L. Holden, the company's month, Mr. McClintock has been absent from the company's offices. Beyond saying that he was suffering from a "nervous trouble" officers of the company would not discuss Mr. McClinock's condition last night.

Mr. McClintock's Career.

In view of the present fight for control of the Mutual Life, and the fact that, according to persistent rumors, Mr. McClintock had hoped to succeed Mr. Peabody as president of the company, a wide interest, it is considered, attaches to Mr. McClintock's condition. Mr. McClintock's name was even mentioned as a successor to Act-was even mentioned as a successor to Acting President Frederic Crømwell, Mr. Peabody's predecessor.

Mr. McClintock is sixty-seven years old. He is a native of Pennsylvania. His father was the Rev. Dr. John McClintock. He was graduated from Columbia, where he later received the honorary degree of LL. D. Yale has conferred the same honor on him. Mr. McClintock entered the life insurance field in 1868, as actuary of the Asbury Life Insurance Company, and took the same position in the Northwestern Muthe same position in the Northwestern Mutual Life, in 1871, retaining it until 1889, when he became the actuary of the Mutual. From 1895 to 1897 he was president of the Actuarial Society of America, and has been a Fellow of the Institute of Actuaries of Great Britain since 1874. He is also connected as a member or corresponding connected as a member or corresponding member with the actuarial societies of France, Belgium and Germany, and is vice president for the United States of the permanders, United Spanish War Veterans, and of the ladies of the Auxiliary and the Lineal Society of the Spanish War Tuesday evening at the home of Capt. J. Walter Mitchell, department commander, 821 3d street. The occasion was a joint informal reception to Commander Miller and a presentation of a handsome gold badge to Gen.

SPANISH WAR BADGE

GEN. GEORGE H. HARRIES THE

Before the arrival of Gen. Harries, who was detained elsewhere until a late hour, the gathering was entertained by Mrs. Inez Seymour McConnell, who rendered several solos: Mrs. Florence Huss, instrumental who gave several recitations, including 'Seeing Things at Night"; comic songs by Mr. John R. Galloway; recitations of orig-inal poems by Mrs. E. Gertrude Mitchell; army yarns by Capt. Lee M. Lipscomb and Maj. Fred. S. Hodgson, and the recitation of patriotic poems by Commander-in-Chief

The presentation of a massive gold badge of the United Spanish War Veterans to Gen. Harries was a surprise to the latter. The presentation address was made by Commander-in-Chief Miller. The inscrip-tion on the badge is as follows: "Presented to Gen. George H. Harries by the national encampment committee in appreciation of his services during the reunion of the United Spanish War Veterans, Washington, D. C., October, 1906."

Affection and Appreciation.

Maj. Miller told Gen. Harries of the affection and appreciation with which he is regarded by the members of the organization, and after reciting the last stanza of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," he presented the beautiful token on behalf of the encampment committee, the Department of the District, the business men's committee and "the comrades of the or-ganization generally." He then pinned the badge to the coat lapel of the recipient. Gen. Harries said he had been taken by surprise. He added that he had called to pay his respects to Maj. Miller, little dreaming such a pleasant surprise party was in store for him. Gen. Harries added that he was glad in-deed if he had been able near the close of service as a staff officer of the U. S. W. V. In conclusion he said:

"This golden token means very much to me, and I will carefully preserve it and wear it on occasions of ceremony for the soldierly affection which prompted its presentation, for what it means, and for

Maj. Miller's term of office to perform sor what the organization stands for.' Names of Those Present.

Among those present were Past Department Commanders Lee M. Lipscomb, Fred S. Hodgson and John Lewis Smith; Senior Vice Department Commander Charles J. former Massachusetts general agent, in which Mr. McClintock told Holden to "kill" certain legislation. This encounter, it is said, preyed also on Mr. McClintock's mind. William Peacock, Department Quartermaster Thomas A. Green, Department Muster-Following the stroke of apoplexy last ing Officer J. Leyburn Shorey, Capt. William H. Mellach, aid-de-camp to the department commander: Commander G. E. Rausch of Gen. Nelson A. Miles Camp, Capt. Henry C. Porter, commander of Admiral George Dewey Naval Camp; Acting Commander George W. Nairn of Gen. Andrew S. Burt Camp, Mrs. Ida M. Galloway, vice president general of the National Auxiliary to the U. S. W. V. and Mr. John R. Galloway; Mrs. Eliza V. Hodgson, supreme ruler of the National Lineal Society of the Spanish War; Mrs. Leta M. Ferguson, Miss Anna Ferris, Mrs. George W. Brooke and Mrs. Lawson, all of the Lineal Society.

Want New Synagogue.

BALTIMORE, November 23 .- The congregation of the Moses Montiflore Synagogue, 535 South Smallwood street, is making a strong effort to raise enough money in thirty days to build a ew edifice. The present place of worship has become too small for the 150 families which now attend. It is planned to build on the present site and annex another lot. The cost of the building and lot is estimated at $5,000. Mr. Maurice Amansky has been appointed chairman of the building committee. His father, Mr. Percy Amansky, was among the first Hebrew settlers in Southwest Bal-timore and was one of the founders of the

Miss Schneider, a crazy woman, shot

VIEWS OF DIPLOMATS

Baron von Sternburg Says Germany Wants Square Deal.

SPEECHES AT THE BANQUET

Annual Dinner of the New York Chamber of Commerce.

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Ambassador Durand Says Washington Embassy is Most Desirable in the Service of Great Britain.

NEW YORK, November 23 .- The annual dinner of the chamber of commerce-the 138th-was held last night at the Waldorf-Astoria. Among the guests were the British ambassador, Sir Henry Mortimer Durand; the German ambassador, Baron von Sternburg; Senator Elkins of West

Baron von Sternburg. (Copyright by Clinedinst.)

Virginia, Gen. Horace Porter, Gen. Fred. D. Grant, Alfred Mosely, the English educator: the Rev. Dr. William R. Huntington.

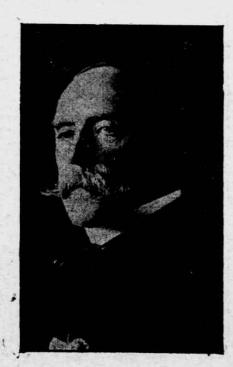

The German envoy made an urgent plea or better trade relations between Germany and the United States, while Sir Mortimer Durand delivered his unofficial farewell to American audiences.

President Morris K. Jesup, who presided. read a letter from President Roosevelt, in which the President said that he was down in Panama seeing with his own eyes what had been done toward starting the canal the name of King Edward, Mr. Jesup said: "We had expected to have as our guests had expected to have as our guests Admiral Dewey, Lord Curzon and Ambas-sador White. I have letters from these gentlemen explaining the reasons for their absence. We had expected to have with us also, and to greet him with all our might, Commander Peary, but he has been unavoidably detained. (Laughter.) I have some telegrams received today. The first one is from Port au Basque."

"Arrived 10 this morning. Coaled and immediately leave. Weather favorable. The expedition has completed a great tri-angle, the apex of which marks the furthest approach to the pole. The stars and stripes have been deposited at each angle of this triangle. Deeply regret adverse circumstances deprive me of the honor and pleasure of being at your banquet. My compliments to those present and for your-

Mr. Jesup read a letter from President Roosevelt which ran: "My Dear Mr. Jesup: I sincerely regret my Dear Mr. Jesup: I sincerely regret that I cannot be present at the annual meeting of the chamber of commerce. I shall be away on business in which all of ur chambers of commerce are much interested-that is, I shall be at Panama to see with my own eyes what has been done in starting the work of the great canal. With all good wishes to the great commercial body of which you are president, believe me sincerely yours, "THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

Sir Henry Mortimer Durand. (Copyright by Clinedinst.)

Baron von Sternburg talked of the long standing friendship between the United States and the country he represents, and then turned to more modern things. He

In the most far reaching diplomatic actions during the last years we notice President Roosevelt and Emperor William moving on the same lines, a policy which re-ceived the full approval of the American ceived the full approval of the American people, because it was a policy of peace based on trust.

Now, gentlemen, let me ask you, where lies our line of cleavage? In our commercial relations? Let us hope not. We know that our progress is regarded with no unfriendly or jealous eyes from this side of the Atlantic. The world knows that you have long since learned to consider the prosperity of others not as hindering but as helping your own. Let me recall the words spoken in an address to Prince Henry of Prussia by one of your leading statesmen in this very city. "Not even the strides of German trade and the growth of the German navy disturb us. Keep on expanding, and above all trade more and more with us and help us to keep the doors of the Orient open to the trade of the world."

Germany heartily reciprocates these the world."

Germany heartily reciprocates these words. America's prosperity means Germany's prosperity. We both have vastly increased our trade since the night those memorable words were spoken, and we have closely stood together to keep the doors of the Orient open for trade.

Germany Asks a "Square Deal." demeanor. In general the santary code president for the United States of the per- Fred Bierhoff, a physician, on the street in May not be arrested on his arrival in New York. As usual, two innocent bystand- serve cleanliness of milk. Enforcement of gresses of actuaries.

Miss Minnie J. Morris, daughter of Mr. New York. As usual, two innocent bystand- gresses of actuaries.

Miss Minnie J. Morris, daughter of Mr. New York As usual, two innocent bystand- gresses of actuaries.

Miss Minnie J. Morris, daughter of Mr. New York As usual, two innocent bystand- gresses of actuaries.

The Slim Princess

GEORGE ADE Driven abroad by the muckrakers, Pike (of the auburn hair) climbs a wall to see some A-rabs perform and finds a real, sure-enough of the Bessemer, Pennsylvania, Pike family (fortune made in steel common, but preferred that way) that "robbed the orphans, walked on the humble working-girl and gave the double-cross to the common people."

Alex. H. Pike-

The rest of it happens in America because the advertising pages prove that American breakfast foods add a pound a day to a princess, a pippin, if you don't mind his saying so

-the kind that "would block the traffic if she walked up Fifth Avenue."

Get This Week's

SLIM PRINCESS.

The Slim Princess-

"slender, but not the same width all the way up and down"-who lives in a land where fatness is a dowry and where "a woman weighing two hundred pounds is only twothirds as beautiful as one weighing three hundred."

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST

5c the copy $1.50 the year, by subscription

THE CURTIS PUBLISHING COMPANY, PHILADELPHIA

be within the legitimate and proper limits of commercial rivalry—and nowhere else. If Commander-in-Chief Charles R. Miller of the United Spanish War Veterans, and Gen. George H. Harris, commanding the District of Columbia militia, were guests of honor of the officers of the Department of the District and the local camp commanders. United Spanish War Veterans, and Commanding the District and the local camp commanders. United Spanish War Veterans, and Commanding the Spanish War Veterans, and Commanding the District of Columbia militia, were guests of honor of the Officers of the Department of the District and the local camp commanders. United Spanish War Veterans, and Commander the was on his way home after planting the stars and stripes at the point "farthest cheaper goods, more care in manufacture and better effort in the distribution we expect the fair fruitage of our planting; but no mare. Would you deny us this? I know you better than to suspect it. We are inviting you to closer commercial relations. In return to the hand you stretched over to us the other down the other down shall bring to the context better and cheaper goods, more care in manufacture and better effort in the distribution we expect the fair fruitage of our planting; but no mare. Would you deny us this? I know you better than to suspect it. We are inviting you to closer commercial relations. In return to the hand you stretched over to hand across the north Atlantic, which you a commission of experts to Germany to make a thorough study of the tariff situa-tion in Germany, and to thoroughly acquaint the Germans with the American sit-uation. May this step bring great advantages to the commercial and industrial life in both our countries. The British ambassador, Sir Henry Mortimer Durand, followed Baron von Stern-burg in what, he said, would be his last speech in this country. It was his unofficial farewell. He said: Sir Mortimer Durand's Farewell. This being the last time I shall address this chamber or any great American audience as British ambassador, you will perhaps forgive me if for a moment I go beyond the terms of my toast. As you may know, I am about to retire from the diplomatic service. For some reasons I greatly regret doing so, and especially do I regret leaving America, where I have many good friends. From the day I entered the servce it was my express wish to become ambassador at Washington. I regard this embassy as the most desirable post in the service. I had inherited from my father a warm feeling toward Americans, and I can say with all truth that after three years spent here I am leaving the country with that feeling not only unimpaired but greatly increased. You have made me thoroughly at home here, and I shall always think of Americans as the most kindly and warm-hearted of people.

Still, a man's public service must come to an end some day, and I have had nearly thirty-four years of it-spent almost cor tinuously out of my own country. Since sailed for the east in January, 1873, I have spent only one complete year in England. Senator Elkins' Address.

Senator Elkins was the next speaker. He sald in part: In some quarters, and among those not well informed and who do not know the Senate, it seems fashionable to talk about the decadence of the Senate. The decadence of the Senate can only follow the decadence of the people, and would mark a backward movement in the social condition morals, intelligence and integrity of the people. So long as the people grow in virtue and in intelligence, live in an advancing civilization and under a free govern-ment, there can be no decadence in high places, but instead ever-increasing virtue and a loftier sense of duty in our public

We are apt to think and say that the present is not equal to the past in all good things, in patriotism, ability and purity, and that our greatest men belong to the past: but when the time comes the present always find some one to take the place of the greatest that has fallen. The present always has this satisfaction—it will soon become the past to those who come after us. We have glants among us, but they do not always make themselves known, nor do we The full measure and stature of Lincoln and Grant were not known by those who knew them best, and are not fully known yet. The hour produces the man. Great men come forth when great things are to be done. This is the experience in the business affairs of this great city, in bank-ing, railroading, law and other callings. Razor Cause of Trouble.

The possession of a razor proved serious for Humphrey Mills, colored, arrested by Policeman Cooper of the harbor precinct was charged with stealing the from Marshall Banks, with carrying a concealed weapon and with using the razor to cut the pocket of Frank Moore. For carrying the razor Judge Kimball im-posed a fine of $100 or 364 days in jail; for the larceny of the weapon sentence of sixty days in jail, and for robbery he held the defendant for the action of the grand jury. Found Hiding Behind Chimney.

Policeman Williams of the fourth precinct, who searched through Broad alley yesterday afternoon for Emma Mosely, colored, accused of assaulting Agnes Matthews, finally located her hiding behind a chimney on a roof.

A charge of assault was filed against Emma in the Police Court yesterday, but the trial was continued indefinitely to await the result of a fracture of the skull sustained by Agnes.

Mayor Schmitz, indicted in San Francisco,

NEW MORNING

BUSINESS MAN'S TRAIN

DUII ANEI DUIA 9. NEW VODV

LUITARETLUI	h cu i	ICM I	UNN
BEGINNING	NOVEN	BER 2	25.
Leave Washington Arrive West Philadelphia			8.00 a.m.
Arrive North Philadelphia Arrive New York			II.IA a.m.

BROILER BUFFET PARLOR CAR AND STANDARD COACHES.

W. W. ATTERBURY, J. R. WOOD, GEO. W. BOYD, General Manager. Passenger Traffic Manager. General Passenger Agent.

TO TAKE EXAMINATION

CANDIDATES FOR POSITIONS IN THE MARINE CORPS.

It is announced at the Navy Department that the following named candidates have been designated to take examination in this city beginning January 15 for appointment as second lieutenants in the United States Marine Corps: Frederick Lyford Lang, New York; Paul Allyn Capron, Virginia; Allan M. Sumner, Massachusetts; Lloyd D. Thomas, Texas; Harold Hickox Utley, Illinois; John Potts, Virginia; Joseph Taylor Clement, South Carolina; Thomas W. Todd, Maryland; Harry A. Persell, Pennsylvania; Ralph Eaton Davis, Illinois; Littleton W. T. Waller, jr., Virginia; Nedom A. Eastman, Georgia; William F. Bevan, Maryland; John H. Layne, Florida; Reginald L. Hart, Il, Pennsylvania; Edward Shippen Willing, Pennsylvania; Leon M. Simons, Rhode Island; James N. Sutton, Oregon; Thomas J. Madigan, Ohio; Edward Porter Roelker, District of Columbia; Richard L. Wallach, Maryland; Leopold J. H. Herwig, District of Columbia; Henry Wirt T. Eglin, Virginia; John Norton Reynolds, Maryland; Harry Vernon Metcalfe, Penn-sylvania; John A. Radoliffe, Massachusetts; sylvania; John A. Radoliffe, Massachusetts; Henry Clay Keene, Alabama; Andrew T. Wilson, Massachusetts; Berrien A. Silliman, New York; Edwin N. McClelland, Pennsylvania; Robert Emmett Adams, Pennsylvania; Edward A. Osterman, District of Columbia; Barrington K. West, Jr., Virginia; Armine Ways Smith, Maryland; Ernest Reppenhagen, New York; Charles L. Collier, Virginia; Charles R. Hudgins, Virginia; Geo. C. Minnegerode, Kentucky; Alexander M. McClure, 'Kentucky; John McNulty, New York; William Gerard Bowman, New York, and Roger M. Randal, Texas.

HYATTSVILLE AND VICINITY. Magistrate Invited by Students He Fined to Attend Foot Ball Game.

HYATTSVILLE, November 22, 1906. Saturday afternoon the foot ball team representing Washington College of Chestertown, Md., will play the Maryland Agricultural College eleven at College Park. Should the agriculturists capture the game it will practically decide the championship in the intercollegiate series in their favor. Justice of the Peace Arthur Carr, who fined about seventy-eight of the cadets from the college $3.75 each, as the result of Halloween pranks in Hyattsville, has received an invitation to attend the game, the admission fee being placed at $3.75. The magistrate is asked to attend early to avoid the rush. He app-sciates the joke, but de-clares that he does not care to join in the

pecial Correspondence of The Star

ried last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. C. J. S. Mayo, rector of Pinkney Memorial Church, Hyattsville, officiating. The ceremony was witnessed by members of the families of the contracting parties and a few intimate friends.

Mr. George H. Calvert, jr., of College Park has been elected president of the National Hotel Company, Washington, to succeed his father, the late Charles B. Calvert. The latter held the office from the time of the organization of the company in The ladies of the Hyattsville Memorial M. E. Church gave an oyster supper in the dining room at Masonic Hall here last evening. The affair was under the general supervision of Mrs. Robert Wilson, her assistants being Mrs. Magruder, Mrs. Walter Wilson, Mrs. Hirschman, Mrs. Hutchinson, Mrs. Robinson and others. The decorations were in red. About $50 was realized. A conclave of the Order of Heptasophs will be organized here Sunday afternoon next in Masonic Hall, when officers will be elected for the ensuing year. Wednesday of next week Supreme Organizer John W. Cruett of Baltimore will install the newly-elected officers. There are thirty-six char-

Danderine GREW THIS HAIR:

MISS JEANETTE WALLICE.

343 W. 14th Street, New York City.
When the scalp throws off either dandruff or a gummy substance, it is an evidence of scalp disease, and no time should be lost in correcting it. You certainly would not hesitate to take treatment were you to look at this matter through a magnifying glass. When highly magnified it resembles a working mass of insects. These creatures absorb the nutriment or life-sup of the scalp, causing the scalp to become dry and feverish, resulting in the loss of hair and finally baldness. Danderine works wonders in all such cases. It thoroughly eradicates all trace of scalp bacteria and makes the hair grow unusually long, strong and beautiful. One 25-cent bottle is enough to show you that it will do all this and even more. NOW at all druggists, three sizes 25c., 50c. and 51.00 per bottle.

KNOWLTON DANDERINE CO., CHICAGO,

KNOWLTON DANDERINE Co., CHICAGO. For Sale—Guaranteed by

HENRY EVANS,